> The American determination to stand solidly behind the "5-5-3" naval ratio was reiterated with even greater emphasis today as a reflex from the statement of Vice Admiral Kato that Japan must have a larger proportionate strength if her national needs are to be adequately served.

> The American position is that if national needs are to be the basis of the discussions , any change in the ratio probably would be adverse to Japan, rather than in her favor. The yardstick of existing strength, which the American plan has sought to apply, is declared by the American delegates to show beyond doubt that the "5-5-3" formula is "liberal" as it applies to the Japanese navy. To what extent the Japanese insistence might be carried was uncertain tonight, but Prince Tokaguwa of the Japanese delegates softened the expressions of Vice Admiral Kato by pointing out that in asking for 10-10-7 ratio the admiral had been speaking merely his own personal convictions.

> Because of uncertainty over the Japanese position a meeting of the international subcommittee of naval experts was adjourned without action today, and another meeting was called for tomorrow. Meantime there were suggestions that a plenary sesearly next week to receive the subcommittee report, but no formal call was issued.

DUG UP $5,000,000 TREASURE

A treasure chest containing gold, silver and jewels worth $5,000,000 was recently unearthed in the marshes near Cuxhaven, Germany. The metal is said to be the finest gold and silver and to have an art value part of the hidden hoard of a pirate named Stoertebecker for which Germans have been hunting since 1390. Stoertebecker and the Vitalien brothers were the most notorious of European pirates. After a long and successful career as robbers on the high seas they were finally defeated in a battle near Helgoland and later when they attacked Hamburg. In the latter battle Stoertebecker was captured. He was hanged in Hamburg.

Under German law the finders are entitled to 10 per cent of the treasure, the owner of the property on which it was found getting the remainder. The owners hope to have the treasure remain in Germany rather than be bought up by wealthy Americans. They have undertaken negotiations with the government to that end.

MOON MENACE

Observatory Director Scouts Idea Satellite Will Strike Earth.

By Abbe Th. Moreux.

Director of the Observatory Bourges. Paris, Nov. 26 .- A recent statement by the English astronomer Crommelin seems to have caused considerable emotion in the public mind. The last eclipse of the moon, he befalse. Our catellite, he says, is disobeying the universal laws of gravita-comet) in 1693. At that time astronomy showed that the moon possessed ing the problem. a movement quite different from that of other celestial bodies in the sense that its movement was not uniform by Newton.

At first it seemed simple enough that the acceleration would continue and that one day the moon really a problem tempted the genius of office of Miss Genevieve Allen, an at- Whitnesey, of Pittsfield, Mass It Laplace, and that skilled mathema- tache of th district attorney's office the was i and that he told others service men of Chicago will eat Xmas tician proved in 1787 that the phe- in New York, returned to ask if her that he was going away for the week- dinner on "Lithtnin" this year. Laplace demonstrated that this eclipse does not always have the same. form. We can compare it to a hoop upon which one exercises a lateral pressure, and which in consequence, earring. is Flattened a little.

At present this eclipse becomes year by year more circular, and in 24,000 years it will be nearly circular. After this it will tend to become elliptical again for more than 40,000 years.

Solution Offered.

Now, since the moon turns around the earth, at the same time being susceptible to the influence of the sun, one can readily conceive that every change in the distance of our globe from the sun would have its effect upon the position of the moon In other words, according to whether we are nearer or farther from the sun, our attraction on the moon in creases or decreases, and consequently the moon must incraese or diminish its speed of movement.

At present, and since a long time, the moon has been increasing its average speed. The increase, however, is insignificant, for in one hundred years the moon hardly advanced in its trajectory more than ten

All this, we must admit is theoratical and by no means absolutely exact. When we have greatly improved our tables on the moon and its various positions, we shall still be incapable of predicting for a long time in advance what place the moon will occupy in the heavens. The er-Frors will be very small, but they exist, and the proof is the fact that at each eclipse of the sun we notice some small error of some seconds in the time calculated and the time actually observed.

Should Be Quarantined.

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure-the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicin than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE XXXVI.—NEVADA

A a Spanish a diective meaning "snowy," and is taken from the Sierra those lofty mountains which separate the State from California. Most of the history of the state centers in this Western section, near the Sierras, and it is here that all of Nevada's principal cities are located.

The first white man to cross the present state was the Franciscan Monk, Father Gares, who made his way across the deserts to California in 1775. In 1825 Peter S. Ogden of the Hudson's Bay company discovered the Humboldt river, which is sometimes called Ogden river after

The next memorable trip across the state was that by Fremont in 1843, when he went to California at the time of the outbreak of the Mexican war. It was this war which in 1848 resulted in Mexico ceding a large area to the United States, of which Nevada was a part. When this was organized into territories, the Territory of Utah extended to California. The Western inhabitants, however, were left to their own resources and accordingly organized their own government. Resenting the attitude of Utah they petitioned to be annexed to California.

In 1859 the Comstock Lode was discovered and Nevada had its own mining boom. Population immediately grew by leaps and bounds and in 1861 Nevada was formed into a separate territory. Later, portions of Utah were added and the lower part of the state was taken from Arizona. Petitions for statehood were made but it was not until 1864 that Nevada became the thirty-sixth state of the Union.

Though Nevada ranks sixth in size with its area of 110,600 square miles, it has the smallest population of any of the 48 states. Between 1800 and 1900 there was a marked decrease in 1 the population due to the failing off of mining industry.

The German moves on paying his war indemnity, not saying enough about hard times and high taxes for it to get out, while the rest of the world is engaged in making a fuss concerning exorbitant taxes, unemployment and the failure of commerce to move.

Reports have it that Ruth, the home-run swat Czar, has demanded a salary of $50,000 per year from the New York Americans and $5,000 from each of the other seven association ! clubs before he signs a 1922 ccntract. Looks like "Babe" might just as well issue Association, Victory Bonds and have it all over with on short notice.

To this date the conference on arms limitations has served as a good litical and otherwise under which vy steer division; few offered and no main by the most highly civilized and continues for the best quality stock-China is laboring brought on in the The sleeping giant is at least awaken- but on the medium and plainer kinds ing the conscience of others or else it is a slow and draggy markt. is considerable and unnecessary shuffling manifest amongst the auditors addressed by the representatives of the Orient.

Law enforcement is what a community gets when the community really desires it, by community we mean the greater, majority residing When peorle set their heads and hearts on putting the lawless element to flight, or behind bars where the willful violator can do no harm, then, and then only, has the first step been made by which society will be protected from the vicious element. The road to perfect protection is unattainable, or virtually so. The recent, or apparent recent, epidemic in the making and dispensing of illicit intoxicants has been brought to light by recent revolt of the people. It is perhaps no worse today than upon the same date of last year, only the people are aroused and imbued with a determination to break it up, throttle it. It can't be obliterated entirely, but the business can be made so dangerous for those who participate that the resultant harm will be barely noticable. Then laxity in enforcement is likely to result, and in a short period the whole thing is more than certain to have to be done over again. We have always maintained that as a people we were entirely too good to the willful violator of the criminal statutes-we have been censured for expressing our views-but we again repeat: make Route 1 the habitual violator; of whatever category it may be, live hard. Make the punishment a terror, a thing to be evaded and dreaded. A few misguided sympathetic people can do more for freeing a vicious criminal than a whole community can do toward assisting in conviction. Not in one case out of each twenty, except the party giving testimony has personal feeling against the accused being tried, do the witnesses tell everything must be pumped from the witnesses. illness. In view of the foregoing, it is hardly necessary to the stand who have been summoned by the accused or at his request for the special purpose of helping him. Their attitude is known of by all. As a rule it is their business, their Entered according to law at the duty as they view the matter, to tell Postoffice, Hartford, Ky., as mail only of such facts as may be dragged from them, that is facts as calculated to damage. On the other hand they Address all communications to leave out no little detail in their evidence that might tend to aid the defense. Frequently more is sworn to. People will not tell an untruth or give misleading evidence for conviction, but for clearing an accused, tho he be of the class of willful and habitual violators of the law and established rules of good society, that is another matter altogether. Those whose duty it is to suppress crime by conducting prosecutions leading to punishment of the offender have all the odds against them, in almost every case they have obstacles to surmount not found by those who lead in defense fights. Good citizens ought to lend more of aid, assist in bringing all of the facts before trial juries to the end that justice may prevail, society be properly and adequately protected as intended by those who shape our rules and regulations. It seems to be in the nature of us all though to take another view, we don't give damaging evidence if we can avoid doing so and if we happen to know something damaging we keep it lockexcept some one interested upon the protecting side of society happens to have knowledge of our knowing something. We need our consciences scoured up a bit, need to ask ourselves a few plain questions as to matters of duty. But are we willing to do it and obey the answer?

Illinois Central System Points to Its Leadership in Passenger Service

The existence of a railway system is justified by its ability to serve the public with transportation. The measure of its service is the measure of its worth. As one example of its high standing, the Illinois Central System invites the attention of the public to those things which are indicative of its capacity for efficient passenger transportation service.

Much depends upon personnel. As an organization the Illinois Central System is composed of a body of 60,000 faithful and efficient workers. Its officers have advanced through the ranks of the service, thus acquiring the practical experienc for intelligent supervision. The efforts of the organization are concentrated on making the Illinois Central System, in point of service, the outstanding railway system in the United States; and that means in the world, for American railroaads have long held, and continue to hold, the leadership of the world in efficient transportation service.

Much depends upon equipment. Up-to-date and well-maintained equipment is the first essential to passenger service of the high type which the Illinois Central System strives to give at all times. For years the Illinois Central System has been a leader among the railway systems in adding to its equipment, keeping its equipment well maintained and developing its roadway facilities.

The Illinois Central System is a leader in the amount of steel passenger equipment in use... Sixty per cent of the passenger cars on the Illinois Central System are of all-steel or steel-underframe construction. Steel cars are expensive, but they are a generally recognized factor for the safety and com-

The latest figures available show the percentage of all-steel and steel-underframe passenger cars in service on the railroads of the country as a whole to be less than 39 per cent.

The passenger on the Illinois Central System is assured of a safe, comfortable trip in a car of good construction and modern convenience, over a smooth-riding track of heavy rail and ties, fully ballasted and well maintained, hauled by a locomotive of sufficient power and in such a condition of maintenance as to give every reasonable assurance of scheduled movement.

For the most part, each locomotive is regularly assigned to the same engineer, who takes a personal pride in its condition. This is believed to be one of the reasons for the small number of engine failures on the Illinois Central System, a record which is outstanding among the railroads of the

The regularity with which Illinois Central System passenger trains maintain their schedules indicates the high order of poor passenger service. The percentage of passenger trains maintaining schedule by months, for 1920 and the current year to November 1st, follows:

January	97.8
February	98.
March94.0	98.
April93.4	98.7
May	99.
June	99.1
July	99.1
August	99.1
Setember	98.6
October	98.1
November97.0
December
Average 95'5	98.6

The patrons of the Illinois Central System find courteous and sympathetic attention in every department. Employes take great pride in our reputation for courtesy.

Service is now the only basis of competition among the railroads. Since rates are standardized, the Illineis Central System cannot offer rate bargains to command patronage but it can offer-and it is constantly developing—the organization, equipment and facilities for unusual service. Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM, President, Illinois Central System.

KENTUCKY TURF'S GREAT PROGRESS

In the Last Three Years the Kentucky Jockey Club Has Distributed in Stakes and Purses $3,479,655.00.

THOROUGHBRED YEARLINGS INCREASE IN VALUE.

[From the Lexington (Ky.) Thoroughbred Horse.]

1 T will be of particular interest to the breeders of thoroughbreds in this State, and to those persons everywhere who own and race horses to review the situation in Kentucky and to show the progress that has been made In the last seventeen years. As the value of stallions and broodmares depends on the quality of their produce and the ability of that produce to win stakes and purses, a comparison of the present prosperous condition of the turf with other days when prices were low and breeders and turfmen everywhere had cause for complaint will be of value at this time.

Never in the history of the turf have thoroughbreds been so valuable as they are right now. The best barometer is the public market and the auction sales at Saratoga last August showed that, despite the general prostration of business, well bred horses with individuality brought the best average In many years. The highest price of the serson at Saratoga was $21,000 for the brother to The Porter. Several others were sold for more than $10,000 each and a number of likely locking colts and fillies brought from $5,000 to $7,000 each. The market generally was steady and unspotted, which is to eay it was stable.

The prices were based on the probable earning power of these colts and fillies, and if organizations like the Kentucky Jockey Club did not offer generous stakes and purses, it would not be pessible for be ex-market their yearlings advantageously. Neither would it have been possible for S. C. Hildreth to have paid $125,00 for the brother to Man o' War, $150,000 for Inchcape, or for Benjamin Block to have paid on a $75,000 valuation for the mighty Morvich, or for a number of others to have paid the large prices given for horses with capacity to hold their own in contests on

Fifteen years ago it was no uncommon thing in Kentucky for turfmen to run their horses for $400 purses. This year the Kentucky Jockey Club distributed in stakes and purses an average of $12,000 a day to the turfmen; no purse at Churchill Downs or Latonia was under $1,300, and many of them reaching $1,400 and $1,500 each. In 1905 the Kentucky Derby was worth $4,850. Since the existence of the Kentucky Jockey Club, which was organized three years ago, the Kentucky Derby was worth in 1919 over $20,000; In 1920 over $30,000, and in 1921 the Kentucky Jockey Club added $50,000 to the royal stake. All the other stakes on the roster of the Kentucky Jockey Club at Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia have been proportionately increased.

In the three years of its existence the Kentucky Jockey Club has distributed to the turfmen $3,479,665, the greater part of which sum was paid to citizens of Kentucky who own and breed race horses.

Since the Kentucky Legislature in 1906 created the Clate Racing Commission, we have had cleaner and better racing than ever before, and since the organization of the Kentucky Jockey Club we have had an era of prosperity for breeders and turfmen unequalled in the turf history of this State.

Here are the official figures for the 1914past seventeen years, from 1905. to 1921, inclusive:

Total number of racing days. . 155 1915-Total amount of money

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an infamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result. Unless the closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. THE FRIENDLY PATH

"HE OFTEN stood beside An honest-faced man."

The unknown author of these lines introduces a character known to everyone and generally loved. In every community there may be found the aged man, with the happy, smiling face. The world has not showered a great amount of wealth upon He has gone through trouble and sickness. He leans upon his worn cane before the humble dwelling and he smiles and chats in his quaint fashion whenever one passes the gate.

Many who are more fortunate than he feel more cheerful when they receive his greeting. They understand that he has to the evening of his life without piling up riches and without winning wide honor. They are battling unceasingly to win both. They cannot find the cause for the peaceful look on the old man's face. They cannot imagine anyone being happy in his declining years without accomplishing much that they aim to gain.

If one asked this familiar character to explain the cause for his apparent content, he probably could not comply with the request. The reason is so simple that even he does not recognize it.

He has acquired what neither money nor honor can buy. He has lived an honest life and looks the world squarely in the face. Countless persons are his trustful friends. Lacking much that others possess, he nevertheless has a clear conscience and his mind is at rest. The smiles he receives from the populace are the blessings which his own open-hearted friendliness has brought him to bring sunshine into his few remaining days or

The world needs to catch the spirit of his kindly old soul. One is poor indeed, regardless of his accumulation of gold or his poverty, if he approaches the end of the path without sincere

Second-It will require a half mildation of the state aid debt created between the years of 1914 and 1920 and as it is also imperative that all state highways be properly maintained some revenue provision must be made for such purposes. It is therefore recommended that a limited sales tax be provided on certain articles now consumed in the state so that a fund of at least $2,000,000 per annum could be secured, out of which fund the state aid debt could be taken care of and the remainder placed in the fund for maintenance purposes

Other recommendations include elimination of dangerous railroad crossings in the reconstruction of primary roads; load limit law; tonnage tax for transportation trucks instead of license fee based on horse power; employes of the department of state roads and highways to be made traffic police; legislation to force tractors, traction engines and other engines using sharp cleats to be equipped so as not to injure road; and an amendment to the status to permit counties to issue road bonds at a higher rate than 5 per cent.

LUCK-NUMBERS IN JAPAN

It may be commonly thought that belief in lucky and unlucky numbers is chiefly the failing of Western nations, but it appears that the Japanese are quite as superstitious in this respect as are we. In Tokio for example, there is a telephone number which sells annually at a high figure. because the character represented spreads downward and suggestsgrowth and prosperity. This number

Number 357 is regarded as luck Shinto shrines on their third, fifth, and seventh birthdays. On the other Mabel (at the picnic) -Oh, there's hand, the numbers 42 and 49 are regarded as of evil import because the former may be pronounced "shini" Jack-Hurt it? Goodness, woman which means "to die," and the latter may be pronounced "shiku," which means "death" and "suffering." These and other unlucky telephone numbers are avoided by individuals; usually they are taken for government offices, police stations, schools and other institutions.

With cob pipes off fifty per cent the poor man can begin to live again. Joking aside, the cost of living in Louisville is markedly reduced, and more particularly so within the past sixty days. A good "round" stake that sold a year ago for 35 and 40 cents may be bought now from cent cheaper and butter about the same. Women's wearing apparel, inoff, for middle class goods, from 100 to 150 per cent. Most other things in proportion except shoes and men's clothing, which are off 25 to 40 per cent. The present tendency in prices is decidedly downward.

I have just returned from the inaugural ceremonies for Mayor Quin, which were elaborate and impressive, and I am hoping Hartford will be no less generous in the inaugural of Mayor Blankenship.

WHAT IS THE FARM BUREAU?

For some time this question has been asked and is still being asked even more frequently than before in this part of the state.

Literally speaking the Farm Bureau is an organization of the farmers, by the farmers and for the farmers, but not for them alone, for every one knows that a prosperous former Attorney General of the Unit- clude accrued interest which is add- rural population always means more prosperity for everybody. Then last is the Amercian Farm Bureau Federation which is composed of representative from the various states and they deal with the national problems. Your annual membership fee automatically makes you a member of these various branches.

The Farm Bureau movement has nothing in its make-up that tends to be socialistic, bolshevistic or anarchial. It only stands for the things that are right. Much Timber Decay.

It is estimated that eight billion feet of untreated structural timbers decay every year, says the American Forestry Association of Washington. If that whole amount were to be treated we would actually save about four billion feet of lumber every year. That is to say, it would render unnecessary the annual deforestation of some four hundred thousand acres of land. There could be no truer or more effective forest conservation, and every home builder who, by the use of preservatives, lengthens the life of his house or barn, performs an effective service to the cause of forestry.

Leprosy in Indians Rare.

Dr. A. Da Matta writes in Brazil-Medico (Rio de Janeiro) that in his 26 years of practice in Amazonas province he has seen but two of the Indians with leprosy. In prehistoric pottery figures from Peru there is no representation of any deformity suggesting leprosy, although representations of other deformities are common and none of the early explorers mention leprosy among the natives.
